

Luxury Lifestyle Vault

Your Lifestyle, Wherever Life Takes You.

A managed concierge platform that stores, cares for, moves, and protects luxury wardrobes for affluent households living across more than one home — each wardrobe cared for with the discipline of a managed portfolio.

■ THE OPPORTUNITY

Affluent households increasingly live across two or more residences and own wardrobes worth tens or hundreds of thousands of dollars — designer apparel, handbags, watches, fine accessories. Yet there is no trusted way to store, move, and manage those assets across homes. Seasonal moves are done by hand: slow, stressful, and risky. Pieces are forgotten, damaged, or never worn — and there is no simple way to protect or eventually realize their value.

■ THE CONCEPT

Luxury Lifestyle Vault is the concierge layer for that entire lifecycle. We take custody of a client's wardrobe — photographed, authenticated, cataloged, climate-controlled, and insured — and handle everything around it: seasonal rotation between residences, white-glove delivery, and on-demand fulfillment of any specific piece for any occasion, anywhere. We own the custody and the system of record; we partner with vetted premium providers for cleaning and transport.

Arrive at every home to a wardrobe that is already cleaned, pressed, organized — and waiting.

■ THE BUSINESS AT A GLANCE

From wardrobe to portfolio

LLV transforms a luxury wardrobe from stored possessions into a managed asset portfolio — owning the custody and the system of record, and renting only the commodity work of cleaning and transport.

■ THE MODEL

Revenue is recurring by design and diversifies as the platform matures: Tier 1 seasonal rotation and Tier 2 total wardrobe management (recurring subscriptions), Tier 3 on-demand occasion fulfillment (a year-round per-request fee, and LLV's signature differentiator — no competitor offers it), an annual protection membership, and referral revenue from resale partners. The business is asset-light where it should be — cleaning and transport are sourced from premium providers — and asset-owning where it matters: custody and the system of record.

■ WHY IT'S DEFENSIBLE

Every item LLV holds becomes an entry in a proprietary system of record — ownership, authentication, condition, valuation, and location over time. That verified asset history compounds into three things a logistics provider can't easily replicate: Luxury Assets Under Management (LAUM), deep recurring relationships with affluent clients, and a documented low-loss-rate custody operation. In time, the same record can support insurance optimization, estate planning, asset-backed lending, resale, and liquidity.

The portfolio, not the storage, is the asset.

■ A PROVEN BEHAVIOR

The RealReal — the largest marketplace for authenticated luxury resale — has already proven the behaviors LLV depends on: affluent consumers ship high-value items, trust third parties with luxury goods, and re-engage with platforms that simplify ownership. In Q1 2026 it reported roughly $606M in gross merchandise value, up 24% year over year, and more than one million active buyers. LLV serves the ownership and stewardship stage that comes before resale — and is built to feed that marketplace both supply and demand.

A contained proof point, then a repeatable playbook

■ THE PILOT

LLV launches in October 2026 — the start of the snowbird season — with 10–15 founding members in the Wisconsin–Arizona corridor, on a self-funded budget of $25,000–$40,000. The pilot is the proof point: real recurring revenue, strong retention, and a low-loss-rate custody operation in one contained corridor, before expanding to additional corridors (Midwest–Florida, Northeast–Carolinas) on the same platform and playbook.

■ ILLUSTRATIVE 3-YEAR TRAJECTORY

METRIC	YEAR 1 (PILOT)	YEAR 2	YEAR 3
Active members	12	40	100
Corridors	1	2	4
Luxury Assets Under Management	$1.2M	$4M	$10M

Year 2–3 are illustrative growth scenarios for direction. The pilot is designed to run near breakeven — founder time is sweat equity and the gap is funded within the pilot budget — because the objective is proof and retention, not Year-1 profit. LAUM is the figure that compounds, and the one a strategic acquirer values most.

■ WHY NOW & WHO'S BUILDING IT

The platform is already built — client, provider, and admin systems with a digital wardrobe catalog, AI-assisted search, payments, and provider workflows — and is in testing ahead of launch. LLV is founded by a technology entrepreneur who previously built and sold a company to UnitedHealthcare, bringing direct experience building, scaling, and exiting a venture.
